Study Correctional Management at NUST!

The Bachelor of Criminal Justice in Correctional Management compares penal and correctional systems from a global perspective. Students examine modern-day issues and gain advanced knowledge of the philosophies and theories that guide correctional systems, policies, structures and functions. The programme enables students to apply best practices, administrative and legal principles in the correctional environment. The degree offers a comprehensive study on legal principles and leadership within the correctional system. The focus is on public protection, incarceration, community corrections, rehabilitation, restorative justice, and the reintegration of offenders into the society. The degree further provides and equips students with essential knowledge on day-to-day operational, safety and security, and technological aspects in the correctional system.
